

SDG 1 Report

Assiut university is one of the oldest governmental universities in Egypt. It provides free education to most of its students. There is a very limited book fees that is usually paid by students. However, poverty sometimes prevent students from covering these fees. The university is running a financial add office that covered these fees for about 40% percent of students in 2021 .

The university and through its Office for Student's Assistance continuously monitor progress of these students and their graduation . The coast of living in Assiut is generally law. The university dorms are of a very low coast and additional financial aids for housing may be given to students from low-income families after doing family social status search. Attached report in the pertained section showed that university spent about 40 million Egyptian pounds financial, food and housing support in 2021 .

As our university support students by free lunch meal about 200 or 500 meals free with 30% discount in 2022.

On the other hand, the university helps the surrounding community to raise its socioeconomic level .

During 2021, it helps with small projects (especially free technical assistance) to help the families in their living. It also provides free courses for raising the capabilities of young, educated youth (even none university graduates) and help them in Job opportunities. Additionally, the university itself employees a big number of citizens from Assiut governorate either full time or part time jobs .

As the financial aid to students specially for poor student about 140,000 students in 2022.

The university give low interest loan to student about 20,000 students in 2022.

Finally, Assiut University experts share with the local and national authorities and NGOs in finding programs to fight poverty and develop the society.

Prepared by:

Omar M Shaaban

Head of the International Ranking office